Declaration

I hereby declare, as the legal representative of the above slaughter location, that all animals that are slaughtered at the above location, are adequately stunned prior to slaughter (bleeding out). Meaning that animals are only bled out after they have been stunned. Adequate stunning for poultry (both chickens and turkeys) refers to stunning using a CO2 installation. The water bath method is not sufficient and uses in the slaughterhouse.

After stunning, the animal is in a state of unconsciousness and numbness that is maintained until the animal has died.

This applies to the entire slaughter location, and for all animals (BLk and non-BLk eligible) which are slaughtered at this location.
