These decisions/interpretations have not yet been formally adopted and, in the event of exceptional circumstances, are subject to change before being included in the established BLL criteria. In anticipation thereof, certification will be carried out on the basis of these supplementary decisions and interpretations. |                                                                   |                                                                                                   |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

There are currently no additional criteria or banned products under the BLL 1-star pig scheme with regard to animal protein/fats/blood plasma in pig feed. As such, they are permitted. However, it is possible that the chain itself imposes additional criteria over and above the Better Life criteria. To ensure that animal protein/fats/blood plasma may be used in a particular chain, you may consult the chain manager (usually the abattoir). |

| 12-06-26 | AM03bbPhotovoltaic installation | If there is a photovoltaic installation at the company (UFN), does the residential house count towards this, or only the company buildings? And how does this work in Belgium? | This criterion concerns the photovoltaic installations associated with the farm buildings. In Belgium, a different type of inspection applies than Scios Scope 12, namely an AREI inspection. Criterion AM03bb will therefore be formulated as follows: Criterion: photovoltaic installations present on the farm (UFN) are inspected every five years according to Scios Scope 12 or by means of the AREI inspection in Belgium. For new construction or renovation after 02-05-2026, but no later than 01-01-2030. Interpretation: With the Scope 12 inspection, the entire photovoltaic installation is inspected, and the electrical safety and fire safety of the installation are mapped out. Explanation: these inspections must be carried out by a company other than the one that installed the photovoltaic installation. In the event of remedial actions, the livestock farmer must resolve this with their own installer so that a re-inspection can take place. After approval of the re-inspection, a notification follows in the Scios portal. For more information about Scios inspections and for a list of companies that can perform the inspections: https://www.averoachmea.nl/preventie/elektrakeuring. In Belgium, the AREI inspection must be carried out before the photovoltaic installation is put into operation. A periodic inspection must take place every 5 years. |

| 14-07-26 | AH07 Enrichment material | In the new version, this criterion carries only a major sanction. Whereas previously a distinction was made between a 'minor' sanction (regarding enrichment material requiring replenishment or refreshing) and a 'major' sanction (for suspected lack of consistent use or issues with the material itself). Compared to the previous version, this criterion now includes several additional compliance requirements. In some instances, we do not consider suspension (a 'major' sanction) to be an appropriate response. For example, if just one or a few pens contain slightly too little enrichment material for 25% of the animals, or if the material needs replenishing or refreshing at the time of inspection, a suspension—coupled with a mandatory inspection at the farmer's expense—is disproportionate. What is the position of the Dutch Society for the Protection of Animals on this? | The Dutch Society for the Protection of Animals is of the opinion that this type of criterion is less suitable for the immediate assignment of a 'major' non-compliance. Compared to the previous criteria, this criterion has undergone a number of additions, meaning it now comprises multiple components. Consequently, the criterion now encompasses numerous aspects that can be subject to sanctions. The original tiered sanctioning approach is well-suited to this structure and aligns with the system applied to other animal species. Naturally, any non-compliance must be rectified; providing enrichment material is highly relevant to animal welfare and is also a legal requirement. Criterion AH07 will therefore be formulated as follows: Criterion: There is enrichment material in each pen with pigs. The material must comply with the following requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Of plant or animal origin (organic)</li> <li>- Not mixed with regular feed</li> <li>- On the ground to permit rooting</li> <li>- Safe for pigs</li> <li>- Clean</li> <li>- Refreshed, replenished or replaced at least once a week</li> </ul> At least 25% of the pigs in a pen can be occupied 24 hours a day: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. with loose clean materials on the floor, and/or;</li> <li>2. by removing material from a dispenser, and/or;</li> <li>3. by rooting in material in a tray on the floor, and/or;</li> <li>4. by playing with suspended objects trailing on the floor such as jute cloth, ropes or soft wood.</li> </ol> |

Interpretation: Enrichment material must enable pigs to meet their essential behavioural needs without compromising their health. How it is provided greatly influences the effectiveness of enrichment material. See the Better Life Label website for the WUR brochure 'Pen enrichment and nesting material for pigs' and the corresponding pen enrichment card.

- If a dispenser (rack/basket/tube/platform) is used, the pigs must be able to remove the material easily and the dispenser must be placed at the right height. The snout may be lifted to a maximum of shoulder height.
- If the dispenser is suspended above a slatted floor, sufficient material must remain on the floor for the pigs to root with.
- If trays on the floor are used, the pigs must be able to root in the tray with their snouts. There must be enough space for the snout to move and root.
- If objects such as a jute cloth, ropes, soft wood or fresh branches are used, the material must be completely or partially on the floor and must be easy for the pigs to break up.

Combinations of straw, dispensers, trays and objects are permitted to ensure that enrichment material is available for at least 25% of the pigs in a pen at any time.

Enrichment material must be offered as much as possible in a place other than where the animals eat, rest or defecate. It is not permitted to provide enrichment material in the feed trough. For sows in the farrowing house or the service house each animal must have access to enrichment material, in accordance with this criterion.

Method of measurements: Verify and record per animal category whether there is enrichment material available in at least 4 pens that complies with the criteria.

Verify using the purchase orders whether the material is replenished, supplemented or replaced at least once a week.

Sanction:

- Minor if materials are insufficient or not in order.
- Major if the required materials are missing from multiple pens.

| 14-07-26 | K10.1 Play area for piglets                                    | This criterion stipulates that piglets in the farrowing pen must be able to move around the pen freely and without obstruction. Some pig farmers wish to provide 'family feeders' in farrowing pens. These offer the advantage of allowing piglets and the sow to eat together, which aligns with the future policy of the Better Life label (BLL). However, family feeders extend all the way to the floor of the pen, thereby reducing the space available for piglets to move around freely. The question is whether the use of a family feeder complies with criterion K10.1. | The Dutch Society for the Protection of Animals has decided that the use of a family feeder—allowing sows and piglets to eat together—also satisfies criterion K10.1. Consequently, criterion K10.1 will be formulated as follows: Criterion: Piglets in the farrowing pen must be able to move around the pen freely and without obstruction. Interpretation: Being able to walk unimpeded all the way around gives piglets more space to play and acquire normal behaviour. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- This does not apply to a separate piglet nest that is not part of the farrowing pen itself.</li> <li>- Adjustable floors are permitted, as they are usually only a potential obstacle for the piglets during the first few days.</li> <li>- The use of family feeders is also permitted under this criterion.</li> </ul> Verify and record whether piglets in the farrowing pen can move around the pen freely and without obstruction, with the exceptions mentioned above. |

| 1-05-26 | B01.1, B01.2 and B01.3 Floor area per piglet                    | The revised pig criteria came into effect on 2 May 2026. The criteria state that, in the case of surface area, this refers to the available pen floor area. Applying the available pen floor area has consequences for the number of pigs that can be kept. Can the application of the available pen floor area be postponed? | The Dutch Society for the Protection of Animals has decided that the application of the available pen floor area for weaned piglets will be postponed until 01-01-2027. As of 01-01-2027, the certification bodies will apply the 'available pen floor area'. This means the following: the space that is available to pigs and on which the pigs can move freely and can lie down, rest and stand up without difficulty. In doing so, they must not be hindered or obstructed by obstacles present in the space. As of 01-01-2027, all pigs present must be kept on the basis of this available pen floor area. If, as of 01-01-2027, too many pigs are kept in pens based on the available pen floor area, a livestock farmer will be sanctioned for this. |
